Dates	Name of project and client	Key responsibilities and achievements
2021	Project :developing the strategy of the charitable and humanitarian sector in the State of Qatar The Regulatory Authority for Charitable Activities(RACA) in Qatar	Team member and consultant for developing the strategy of the charitable and humanitarian sector in the State of Qatar, within the memorandum of understanding between Doha Institute and the Regulatory Authority for Charitable Activities(RACA).
2021	Governance of public policies during and after conflicts in the Middle East, Doha Institute for graduate studies	Leading coordinator and PI of the research project: Governance of public policies during and after conflicts in the Middle East . The main questions considered here are: how are public policies made in times of war in the Middle East? What are the public policy governance frameworks that are used during and after conflicts in the region? Who are the main actors and influencers in making and implementing public policies during and after these conflicts? Also, how are mobilized the various resources needed to implement public policies? What are the roles that non-conflict actors play in mitigating the effects of war on societies? What are their challenges?

2019- continuing to 2020	Empowering Somali Women to be Effective and Productive Society Members within Vision 2030, RU Nijmegen	Leading coordinator and PI: The main goal of the project is to empower Somali women by providing a picture of distance training to develop their skills and enable them to meet the labor market needs. The study methodology will start with an ethnographic fieldwork , divided into two pilot mapping phases. Phase I depends mainly on interviews to obtain a general picture that would allow for the development of surveys that will be used in Phase II to collect data. The results garnered from Phase II will be used to develop the required distance learning strategy. Besides, the survey results will be used to develop an application to be used for distance learning.
2018	Pathway for Peace, Stability, and Legitimate State building in Libya and Yemen, RU Nijmegen	Leading coordinator and PI of the research project: Pathway for Peace, Stability, and Legitimate State building in Libya and Yemen. This project examines the issue of a legitimate state building in Libya & Yemen across the different roles that nonviolent social actors play. The results will be informative for our end-users, enabling them to formulate an adequate strategic response in their future involvement in Libya & Yemen by identifying and mapping relevant nonviolent social actors and developing recommendations on how to reinforce their agency in both countries. This project will have implications for peacebuilding and state building interventions that need to be adapted to complex realities , in which boundaries between the state and non-state, civil and uncivil, violent and non-violent actors and domestic and international domains are blurred. It also offers food for thought to peacebuilding donors, whose funds have inadvertently become encapsulated into problematic political dynamics in fragile states that are suffering from conflicts and wars.
2017	Civil Society Organizations CSOs in a Twilight Zone: The Case of Yemen and Syria, RU Nijmegen	Leading coordinator and PI of the research project: Civil Society Organizations CSOs in a Twilight Zone: The Case of Yemen and Syria. The local partner was the Governance and peacebuilding center, Yemen. Although important roles in peacebuilding are attributed to civil society (CS), few studies have so far analyzed how CS actors fare amid ongoing war.
2016	Youth bulges in Egypt, Tunisia and Yemen. RU Nijmegen	Leading coordinator and PI of the research project: Youth bulges in Egypt, Tunisia and Yemen: Threats to Security or Opportunities for Peacebuilding? This project aims to investigate the role of youth in peacebuilding processes prior, during and after the Arab Spring uprisings in Egypt, Tunisia and Yemen
2015	'The 2013 National Dialogue Conference (NDC) in Yemen: Why did it fail to prevent conflict?' RU Nijmegen	Leading coordinator and PI of the research project: 'The 2013 National Dialogue Conference (NDC) in Yemen: Why did it fail to prevent conflict?' The local partner was AWAM Foundation for Development and Peacebuilding, Yemen. The project took up the following two tasks: 1) a meta-analysis ("systematic review") of a comprehensive set of NDC evaluations published by academic researchers, political analysts, donor agencies etc. to pinpoint the NDC's strengths and weaknesses, and 2) an elicitation among local civil society actors (including women's rights organizations) to document their perspective on the merits and flaws of the NDC.
